

SafeGulf Identification Cards

The SafeGulf identification cards are printed with an expiration date that was to identify when an employee was due a refresher course. The SafeGulf course has been taken one year before the expiration date. The SafeGulf Advisory Group Curriculum Committee determined that at this time a refresher course on orientation would not add any value.

The SafeGulf Cards are valid as printed with an expiration date until further notice. Please disregard the expiration date.

As of July 19, 2006, PEC/Premier Safety Management, Inc. began printing SafeGulf identification cards. A problem was noted with the SafeGulf identification cards printed by PEC between July 19, 2006 and August 14, 2006. The front of the SafeGulf identification cards indicate the "Course" and the "Date Taken". The "Date Taken" may indicate the year as 2007. This should read as 2006. We are sorry for any inconvenience this may have caused. This will not affect the functionality of the card being processed for offshore access.
